

Global Network for Simulation in Healthcare

Consensus Guidelines For Value Based Simulation 2015 GNSH Global Summit Invitation Monday 3 August to Wednesday 5 August, 2015 Stavanger, Norway

- Consensus Summit at Utstein Abbey -

The GNSH Executive Committee is delighted to announce the 2015 Global Summit will be held in Stavanger, Norway. Following the 2014 Edinburgh summit, there was a strong demand for a focus on how to prove value to key stakeholders, such as financial officers, educational directors, healthcare and college executives, and policy makers. GNSH 2015 will be grounded in the Utstein Style process, which is a proven method for building common understanding and consensus. This process played a historic part of the formation of International Liaison Committee on Resuscitation (ILCOR) and we expect the output of this summit to be foundational for GNSH and the global simulation community.

- The Theme      Demonstrating and Measuring the Value of Simulation to Key Stakeholders.
- The Goals      To identify the metrics that are easily and consistently measured, collected and reported, to build a foundation of data that demonstrates value to key stakeholders. Summit delegates will: (1) identify value domains specific to stakeholders; (2) specify measurable data points to demonstrate value; and (3) identify tools required to collect the data.
- Attendees      Each organization may designate up to three (3) individuals to attend the summit. Individuals should be in senior leadership roles within their respective organizations. Past leaders may be included. Due to space constraints, the 3rd person listed will be placed on a temporary waitlist. After April 15th, we will work through the waitlist on a first come first served basis. Please register early.
